

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

APRIL 15, 1948

Acting Chief, FBIB

Copies of Intelligence Material to Director's Office

Discussion was held in [redacted] office on 13 April 1948 between members of the CV staff and [redacted] and members of his staff about the possibility of furnishing the Director copies of intelligence material as it is collected. It was proposed that FBIB run its present "B" wire into the Director's office.

I pointed out that the "B" wire in its present form would probably not be suitable for the front office, but that the establishment of a separate teletype service for this purpose, similar to the old "A" wire, would require four additional editors and two additional teletypists.

On 14 April 1948 [redacted] said it had been determined to extend the "B" wire to a "news room" adjacent to the Director's office, which would have also an A ticker and presumably tickers from other operating branches. We decided to put a switch and relay system at our end of the "B" wire to permit sending particular items either to New York only or to North Interior only.

My suggestion that additional printer be put in [redacted] office was rejected.
